OUTCOME OF COMMITTEE SELF-ASSESSMENTS: QUALITY AND SAFETY COMMITTEE

1. INTRODUCTION

The purpose of the report is to set out the findings of the committee's self-assessment.

2. BACKGROUND

Board committees are required to undertake an annual review of how effective they have been over the previous year in-line with their terms of reference and work programme. Due to the pandemic and the need to review board committee arrangements (which has now been completed), the process has not been undertaken since before Covid. Arrangements have been put in place to undertake the process twice a year in response to the Audit Wales structured assessment report.

3. GOVERNANCE AND RISK ISSUES

A standard self-assessment template (appendix one) was issued for all committees to independent members, directors and other attendees to share their views on how effectively each committee has been in 2022-23. The findings for the Quality and Safety Committee are set out below and are an opportunity for the committee to discuss what has gone well, areas which could be improved and ideas for the longer-term effectiveness of the committee. Responses were received from both executive directors and independent members but not all opted to answer all of the questions dependent on their experience or role within the committee.

- Committee Effectiveness

	Strongly Disagree	Disagree	Agree	Strongly agree
The quality of committee papers enables members to perform their roles effectively			4	3
The committee is clear on the outcome of each agenda item		1	2	4
The effectiveness of each meeting is discussed at the end of each one		3	3	1
Appropriate reports from the committee to the board are provided			3	4
The board understands and challenges were needed the reporting from the committee			1	4

- Committee Focus

	Strongly Disagree	Disagree	Agree	Strongly agree
The committee has set its priorities for the year			3	4
It has made a conscious decision about the information it would like to receive			3	4
Committee members contribute regularly to the issues discussed, providing real and genuine challenge			1	6
The committee is aware of the key sources of assurance and who provides them			4	3
Equal prominence is given to all key areas of the committee's remit and this reflected on agendas and reports			1	5
The committee's remit is appropriate and management			1	5

- Committee Engagement

	Strongly Disagree	Disagree	Agree	Strongly agree
The committee is clear about its role in-line with other committees			4	3
Committee members visit services and meet teams to understand relevant issues			6	1

- Committee Working

	Strongly Disagree	Disagree	Agree	Strongly agree
The committee has the right balance of experience, knowledge and skills to fulfil its role		1	1	5
It is fully briefed on key risks, safety issues and any gaps in control			3	4
Key risks are discussed at each meeting		1	1	5
The values and behaviours are reflected in the way in which committee is conducted			1	5
The strategic objectives are reflected in the committees remit			2	5
Officers are held to account for late or non-delivery of assurance items			2	5
Decisions and actions are implemented within the agreed timescales		1	2	4

- Committee Leadership

	Strongly Disagree	Disagree	Agree	Strongly agree
The committee chair has a positive impact on the performance of meetings			1	5
Meetings are chaired effectively			1	5
The committee chair is visible within the organisation and is considered approachable			1	5
The committee chair allows debate to flow freely and does not assert his/her own opinion				6

	Strongly Disagree	Disagree	Agree	Strongly agree
The committee chair provides clear and concise information to the board on committee activities and gaps in control			2	4
The committee chair encourages participation from all and returns to each person to check they are content with the response to their questions		1	1	4

For the majority of the questions, respondents either agreed or strongly agreed, which is a positive outcome. The numbers which had at least one person disagree are set out below and are an opportunity for members to discuss to determine if these should be an area of focus or if work is already underway in these areas.

- The committee has the right balance of experience, knowledge and skills to fulfil its role
- It is fully briefed on key risks, safety issues and any gaps in control
- Key risks are discussed at each meeting
- Decisions and actions are implemented within the agreed timescales
- The committee is clear on the outcome of each agenda item
- The effectiveness of each meeting is discussed at the end of each one
- The committee chair encourages participation from all and returns to each person to check they are content with the response to their questions

Some areas raised in the general comments boxes for the committee to consider and take forward include:

- More aware of site visits – these are undertaken by the executive team on the last Wednesday afternoon of each month and independent members are welcome to join them. Alternatively, there are able to arrange their own visits though the corporate governance team;
- Summary of meeting effectiveness at the end of each session – while some responses disagreed that this was undertaken regularly, one comment felt that it was unnecessary as the committee chair gives ‘ample opportunity for all present to raise any concerns about items of issues both throughout the meeting and at the end’;
- Agenda lengths – the agenda for some meetings can be much longer than others which proves challenging to keep to time and ensure all have the opportunity to contribute. Some suggestions made within the responses include an annual discussion of priorities with all committee members, addressing duplication with other committees, evaluating the introduction of health and safety items and shorter introductions and more succinct reports;

- Opportunities to visit other Quality and Safety Committees to review best practice from elsewhere;

4. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

There are no financial implications associated with this report.

5. RECOMMENDATION

Members are asked to:

- Note the findings of the committee self-assessment;
- Discuss and agree next steps and any action required.

Quality, Safety and Patient Experience
Ensuring the Board and its Sub-Committee(s) makes fully informed decisions is dependent on the quality and accuracy of the information presented and considered by those making decisions. Informed decisions are more likely to impact favourably on the quality, safety and experience of patients and staff
Financial Implications
There are no direct financial implications arising from this report.
Legal Implications (including equality and diversity assessment)
Ensuring the board carries out its business appropriately in accordance with the governance and legal frameworks as set down by Welsh Government.
Staffing Implications
No staffing implications arising from this report.
Long Term Implications (including the impact of the Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015)
The Act requires the Health Board to think more about the long term, how we work better with people and communities and each other, look to prevent problems and take a more joined up approach with partners. There will be long term risks that will affect both the delivery of services, therefore, it is important that you use these five ways of working (Long Term Thinking, Prevention, Integration, Collaboration and Involvement) and the wellbeing goals identified in the Act in order to frame what risks the Health Board may be subject to in the short, medium and long term. This will enable The Health Board to take the necessary steps to ensure risks are well managed now and in the future.
