I refer to your Freedom of Information Act Request acknowledged by ourselves on 11th June 2019. Your request sought information relating to Foetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder (FASD).

Your questions are outlined below:

1. What is the pathway for diagnosis of FASD in Swansea Bay University Health Board?

The health board can confirm that there is no written pathway for the diagnosis of FASD within Swansea Bay University Health Board. However, the health board do have pathways for the management of specific chromosome abnormalities, and the assessment of other dysmorphic syndromes are made on a case by case basis with the assistance of experts in medical genetics from the University Hospital of Wales.

2. Who are your specialists in diagnosing FASD?

Neonatal and paediatric consultants with the assistance of specialists in medical genetics from the University Hospital of Wales. A Medical Genetics Clinic is held in Singleton Hospital by a specialist consultant from Cardiff and Vale University Health Board. Suspected FASD cases are often referred to this clinic for specialist opinion related to diagnosis.
