I refer to your Freedom of Information Act Request acknowledged by ourselves on 30th March 2020. Your request sought information relating to hospital fatalities.

I would like to obtain data on the number of fatalities, by day, in each of the hospitals within the Health Board's management structure. Please supply data covering the period January 1st to June 30th 2019 and 1st January - date 2020.

I can confirm the Health Board holds information of the nature you are seeking to 31st March 2020, however the number of incidences are very few per day and by hospital. This being the case it is considered that such information should be withheld under Section 41 of the Act and therefore denies your request.

Section 41 of the Act sets out an exemption from the right to know where the information requested was provided to the public authority in confidence. The component which is applicable relates to the disclosure of the information would give rise to an actionable breach of confidence. In other words, if the Health Board disclosed the information being sought this could lead to their identification which would be unfair and inappropriate.

A duty of confidentiality does continue after the death of an individual to whom that duty is owed. Where there is a legally enforceable duty of confidentiality owed to a living individual, after death it can be enforced by the deceased's personal representative.

I hope this information is helpful. If you require anything further please contact us at FOIA.Requests@wales.nhs.uk.
