You asked:

We would like to know the following information if available:

- Does your health board have a trauma protocol/guidelines for pregnant patients presenting in the Emergency Department with trauma?
No – SBUHB do not have a specific trauma protocol for pregnant patients. The Advanced Trauma Life Support training covers the processes that should be activated for pregnant patients.
- If yes, could you please attach it with your response to this email?
Please find attached the Major Trauma Triage Tool in use at SBUHB currently.
- Which specialties are called for a trauma call in pregnant patients in ED?
If the patient is pre-alerted into the department, then the relevant Women and Child Health specialties would be contacted with a request to attend.
- Do you routinely call Obstetrics and Gynaecology and Paediatrics/Neonatology as part of this initial trauma call?
As above – when required.
